

THOUSANDS OF FAMILIES RELY ON THIS KIDNEY MEDICINE

About nine years ago the doctor had given me up, saying I had kidney trouble, enlargement of the liver and stomach trouble; that there was no medicine for me that he knew of that would help me; and hearing of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I bought one 50c bottle which did me so much good I bought six 50c bottles. After taking this amount of Swamp-Root I was completely cured and have not consulted a physician since and am doing my own work every day. When I feel any of the old symptoms coming on I go back to my old friend Swamp-Root, which immediately gives me relief.

Very truly yours,
MRS. J. E. WEIDENTHALER,
Grand Island, Neb.

Personally appeared before me this 24th day of October, 1915, Mrs. J. E. Weidenthaler, who subscribed to the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

THEO. P. BOEHM,
Notary Public.

Negroes Are Killed Trying to Escape from Dallas Jail

By the Associated Press.

Dallas, Feb. 23.—Two negro prisoners met death tonight in attempting to escape from the Dallas county jail by falling from the eighth floor to a concrete pavement 200 feet below. An officer stumbled upon the bodies in an alley where they had fallen, at least two hours after the attempted escape. Investigation disclosed that the negroes, who were trustees, had sawed the bars from their cell window 150 feet from the ground, and reached the jail roof by a fire escape. They attempted to reach the ground by way of a drain pipe in an alley back of the jail.

One of the metal couplings of the hose extending down to the eighth floor gave way and the negroes fell and were instantly killed.

Union County Suit Finally Settled

By the Associated Press.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 23.—Litigation began forty-five years ago over a bond issue for a railroad that was never built ended here today when Union county taxpayers compromised a suit for $500,000 with the bondholders for $100,000.

The railroad was projected but never constructed from Madisonville, Ky., to Shawneetown, Ill. The total of judgments in the long litigation over the bonds grew to $500,000, but upon the institution of the last suit, brought in the name of Lillie R. Preston of Dayton, Ia., representing the heirs of A. J. Preston, who had acquired most of the bonds when issued, a compromise was agreed upon and today a court order ended the struggle.

Insists Bulgars Mistreat Serbians

By the Associated Press.

New York, Feb. 23.—Richard Schellens of Groton, Conn., who has been traveling in Serbia as a member of Lady's Page's relief commission, arrived here today on the steamship Tuscania from Liverpool and in the face of denials from the British consular authorities in Belgrade, reiterated charges he made in London on Feb. 2 that the Bulgarians were opposed to helping Americans aid Serbian refugees in Macedonia.

He declared it was evident Bulgaria was determined to exterminate Serbia as a nation by "starving if necessary the people who were not killed in battle."

CONGRESS IN TURMOIL OVER ARMED SHIPS PROPOSITION

impending outbreak from the advocates of the resolution.

War claims bills under formal consideration in the house, were left in the hands of a few on the floor. Representative McLemore, author of the resolution now before the committee, Chairman Webb of the judiciary committee, and Representative Heflin of Alabama, were centers of groups seeking information. The clock rooms fairly hummed with conversation while members rushed on and off the floor.

Many Rumors Current.

A rumor that Chairman Flood had promised Mr. McLemore a hearing on his resolution and another that the resolution would be reported soon created a wave of excitement. Members hastened to Mr. Flood, only to find the reports were untrue. When the conference in Mr. Kitchen's room ended the majority leader hurried over to Speaker Clark's office to consult with the speaker.

Return of the Missourians, Representatives Igou, Decker, Hensley, Russell and Shackelford, from their call on Senator Stone was the signal for another stir.

"I fear we are on the brink of war and we should avoid it if possible," Representative Decker said. "No secret is more willing to uphold the hands of the president than I, but I think this is a step that should be taken without regard to his views."

It was an hour before adjournment time. Administration leaders, fearing that some attempt would be made to bring up the subject on the floor, made every effort to avoid it. One democratic member expressed the hope that the resolution could have been brought up today if it would have been passed by a majority of four to one, but that two days hence it would fail. Without a foreign affairs committee report on the resolution it could have been considered only if it came to a vote on a special rule. But no attempt was made today to do other than obtain a committee report and the house adjourned while informal talk still was going on.

Foreign Affairs Committee Meets.

After adjournment, the democrats of the foreign affairs committee were in session for an hour. Present were Chairman Flood, Goodwin, Arkansas, Huddleston, Alabama, Cline, Indiana, Emith, New York; Shackelford, Missouri; Lamm, South Carolina, and Steadman, North Carolina.

The chairman was told that a strong sentiment for the resolution existed in the house and that it could not be ignored. He stood steadfastly against reporting the resolution. After a lengthy argument, it was decided that a canvass of the house should be taken and the chairman of the house and senate committees, Representative Flood and Senator Stone should report that sentiment to the president tomorrow if possible.

Representative Flood was confident of the defeat of the resolution in the committee.

Will Not Report Resolution.

"Neither the McLemore resolution nor any other of similar nature will be reported out of this committee," he said, "nor will it be possible to get such a resolution on the floor except through the committee."

As he talked the telephone bell rang and as Mr. Flood responded he asked every one to retire. It was President Wilson.

The president, too, had heard a report that we were going to report the McLemore resolution, he said later. "I told him there was not a chance of us doing that."

Some members of the committee said later that the general opinion of the meeting was that the issue of armed merchantmen was not worth going to war over. They advanced the argument that if it came to such a clean-cut issue as this between the house and the president, the resolution was certain to pass.

Senate Also Excited.

While excitement in the senate throughout the day was not so apparent as it was in the house, intense feeling on the subject was reflected there, too. Senator Stone was consulting with informants. Senator Gore of Oklahoma, who recently announced his purpose of introducing a bill to prohibit American citizens from traveling on armed merchant ships, prepared his measure, which is a modification of one he introduced last year and which has been held up since in the foreign relations committee. His new bill would prohibit travel on armed merchant vessels of belligerents whether armed for offense or defense, whereas his original measure would extend the prohibition to all belligerent merchant vessels. It would require American citizens at the time of making applications for passports to take oath that they would not travel or accept transportation on armed vessels of any foreign power at war and also would provide for withholding passports from applicants refusing to take such oath. Violation of the oath would be made a felony punishable by $1000 to $5000 fine, exception being made, however, in case of shipwreck or other distress at sea. Incorporated in the measure is the following provision:

"That no person owing allegiance to the United States who shall travel or accept transportation as a passenger with or without a passport on the armed vessel of any country or power which it at the time in a state of war, shall be entitled to the protection of the government."

Authority would be given the president to suspend operation of the proposed prohibition whenever in his judgment the public peace or safety would not be jeopardized thereby. It seemed doubtful tonight that Senator Gore would get an opportunity to submit his proposal tomorrow, because the senate took recess instead of adjourning. Under this condition the senator must get unanimous consent to introduce the measure.

Senator Stone would not talk about the issue further than to say that he had been informed of the agitation in the house and had conferred with Representative Flood and some members of the Missouri delegation. It was reported that the senator had said he would be guided by the feelings of the majority of the senate and that he would not make a fight against a measure that was backed by a loud fight. This report the senator would not confirm.

Chicago City Hall Scandal Will Be Investigated Today

By the Associated Press.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Probability of a clash of official investigations of the city hall scandal growing out of split-salary charges made by Mrs. Page Waller Eaton, former superintendent of social surveys, against her official superior, Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, head of the city department of public welfare, developed today.

Both the civil service commission and the council civil service committee planned to begin their investigations tomorrow morning and witnesses were summoned by both bodies.

Mrs. Eaton said that she would recognize the authority of the council committee hearing and in an open letter to Mayor Thompson referred to the civil service hearing as a joke. She urged the mayor to submit the whole affair to a committee to be selected from the mayor's advisory board of business men and asserted her complete innocence of sharing in any political plot against the administration. On the order of the civil service commission the payroll of the department of public welfare was held up, pending the investigation.

Mayor Thompson and the president of the civil service commission attributed the charges to a political plot against the administration.

Possibility that the charges might be laid before the state's attorney for action in the criminal court were discussed in political circles.

Still Investigating Taking of Germans from American Ship

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The American consul at Shanghai, China, today submitted a partial report to the state department on the recent seizure of thirty-eight Germans aboard the American steamship China by a British warship. The report gave no details, but fixed the location of the incident as "ten miles off shore."

Secretary Lansing characterized the report as "indefinite" and said he had asked the consul for further information and details.

It is established that the seizures took place on the high seas as the consul's report indicates, the state department is expected to protest to Great Britain, reasserting its contention that persons on American vessels outside territorial waters are entitled to the same protection due them on American territory. That principle was asserted in a protest to France recently that secured the release of Germans and Austrians seized by the French cruiser Descartes and has been maintained in several civil cases.

Chihuahua Consulate Open Once More

By the Associated Press.

El Paso, Feb. 23.—Mining men and others with interests in Mexico were notified today that the American consulate at Chihuahua City, which has been closed since last autumn, had been reopened. Marlon Letcher, the consul who came to El Paso some months ago under orders from the United States government, again is in charge.

His presence at Chihuahua City, it was pointed out, was not, however, to be taken as assurance that it was safe for Americans to return to that part of Mexico. Government officials on the contrary, took occasion to renew their advice to Americans to stay out of that part of the country.

Reports today from the interior of Chihuahua stated that the activities of Villa partisans in constantly growing numbers have interrupted railroad traffic south of Chihuahua City. They have slaughtered cattle worth at least half a million dollars, it was declared.

Villa himself is said to be still at San Germen, but detachments of his men, according to an official report received today at Juarez, have cut the telegraph wires between Juarez and Guerrero. General Gabriel Gaviro, commander at Juarez, declared, however, that the Carranza garrison at Guerrero had not yet been attacked.

Gen. Marcel Caraveo, who was reported yesterday to have led an expedition from Mexico to the vicinity of Fort Hancock, Texas, was found in El Paso today. He denied that either he or his friends contemplated any movement against Mexican factions.

President Tells Hungarians Never Doubled Loyalty

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 22.—President Wilson told a committee of Hungarians today he never had doubted the allegiance to the United States of the great proportion of foreign-born American citizens.

Headed by Alexander Konta of New York, the committee presented resolutions passed at a mass meeting of Hungarians in New York last month declaring they had been misrepresented and slandered by attacks on their loyalty.

"I have never myself doubted the feeling that gentlemen such as you have toward America," said the president. "I recognize you as just as much Americans as anybody born in this country."

"I have deplored the spirit manifested by some who have misrepresented those for whom they professed to speak and my public protests have been against what they said and against their misrepresentation of what I felt sure was the sentiment of the rank and file of those Americans born on the other side of the water."

The committee told the president the mass meeting in New York was a protest against the denial to them of the right of opinion and the right of freedom of speech.

January Wheat Exports Decrease

By the Associated Press.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Wheat exports for January decreased nearly 50 per cent, compared with January, 1915, and cotton exports dropped more than 40 per cent, while exports of meat and dairy products increased appreciably. Department of commerce figures made public today show that compared with January, 1915, exports of breadstuffs decreased from $55,000,000 to $37,000,000, wheat from $33,000,000 to $17,700,000 and cotton from nearly $60,000,000 to $24,000,000. Meat and dairy products increased from $18,000,000 to $21,000,000 and mineral oils from $8,700,000 to $11,700,000.

New Haven Wreck Death List Now Ten

By the Associated Press.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 23.—The death list as a result of the wreck of two New Haven passenger trains at Milford yesterday remained today at ten. Or more than three-score injured passengers, only one is reported to be in a dangerous condition.

An inquest into the cause of the wreck has been opened by Coroner Mix.

The public utilities commission will resume its hearing tomorrow and a member of the interstate commerce commission and railroad officials will be present. Word came from Washington that a federal investigation into the disaster probably will be opened.

BREAK YOURSELF OF THE LAXATIVE HABIT

LAXATIVES and cathartics cause more constipation than they cure. Nujol is the modern treatment for constipation. It conforms in all essentials to the requirements of the mineral oil treatment as prescribed by its discoverer, Sir William Arbuthnot Lane.

Nujol is odorless and tasteless, absolutely neutral, and is not digested or absorbed into the system. It acts merely as a mechanical lubricant.

Nujol is not a drug. Its use will not give quick, temporary relief. But Nujol is a genuine remedy in that it relieves constipation in the most natural way by lubricating the lining of the intestines, softening the intestinal contents, and thus promoting healthy and normal bowel activity.

Callaway Asks Questions.

Replying to a question by Representative Callaway, the admiral said that in framing the $285,000,000 building program it first proposed under his new policy, the board had been guided by the theory that it was necessary to get as many big ships as possible added to the fleet in the shortest time the country's building facilities would permit.

"Do you think we have the same reason for desiring supremacy of the sea that England has?" Representative Callaway asked.

"Not at present, perhaps," the witness replied, "but eventually we would have to reach out for our share of world trade and anybody who stood in the way of getting a fair deal would have to be dealt with."

Admiral Badger repudiated a suggestion that military men viewed all international problems from a standpoint of force, while statesmen looked upon force and diplomacy as equal arms of government.

"Ultimately, however," he added, "diplomacy depends on force. When diplomacy fails it must either abandon its object or call on the force."

Daniels' Action Explained.

Representative Britten asked if the general board had not made a recommendation in 1914 which Secretary Daniels had refused to make public unless its remarks as to personnel in the navy were stricken out. Prefacing his reply with the statement that Secretary Daniels was the first secretary to make public the board's recommendations in full and that they were regarded as for the confidential use of the secretary only, in navy regulations, Admiral Badger said:

"I think much more has been made of that incident than is justified." He explained that the board had made a general recommendation as to personnel to show its effect. When an ex-officio member of the board later suggested that the recommendations these had been stricken out. There was no suggestion, he added, of an attempt by the secretary to force the board to alter its statements.

Representative Callaway produced a calculation which he said had been made for him by a naval officer, comparing the gun power of the American and German fleets. By these figures he said the American fleet in guns above five-inch had a total muzzle energy of 6,166,448 foot tons and a total broadside projective weight of 792,906 pounds; while Germany's total muzzle energy was 5,474,858 and broadside projective weight 196,072 pounds.

"If the best measure of the strength of our fleet is in its gun power," he said, "then we've got a stronger navy than Germany, have we not?"

"It depends on how the guns are mounted or carried," Admiral Badger replied. He pointed out that some foreign navies employed many swift cruisers, with comparatively heavy guns, which a single heavy ship with a far lower total gun power would sink in a few hours of combat.

Representative Callaway sought also to show that France was far behind the United States in gun power.

During Representative Callaway's examination of the witness, Chairman Badger urged him to confine himself to drawing out facts and not to go into speculations.

"The time will come," Mr. Badger said, "when the chair will entertain a motion to close the hearings whether everyone has been heard or not."

Working Out Army Plans.

While the naval committee was gathering information both the senate and house military committees were struggling with details of the army part of the preparedness program. The senate committee virtually completed its preliminary review of the measure to be drafted for the regular army, agreement being reached upon its main features.

The bill provides for a peace strength standing army of 175,000 men as against 135,000 proposed by the house bill under consideration. The war strength will be fixed at 225,000. A seven year enlistment, with the color and four in the reserve, will be expected to provide the men to fill up the regiments for war service. Under his plan the soldier could be discharged into the reserve at the end of a year if found efficient and can optionally go into the reserve at the end of two years if he desires.

The senate bill follows closely the plan of 1912 devised by the army war college after an exhaustive study. Details of the reorganization suggested by the department this year, however, will be worked out in the measure, which is in reality a complete reorganization of the land force. The committee will begin at once devising its own plan for federalizing the National Guard.

More Charges Again Brandeis.

Washington, Feb. 23.—New charges alleging employment of Louis D. Brandeis by E. H. Harriman to obtain proxies in the celebrated fight for control of the Illinois Central railroad, and Mr. Brandeis' relations with the Equitable Life Assurance society, were filed today with the senate sub-committee considering Mr. Brandeis' nomination for the supreme court.

Austen G. Fox, a New York attorney, in charge of presenting evidence for Fox opposed to the confirmation of Mr. Brandeis, laid the new charges before the committee and summarized what he expected to prove by direct evidence.

In 1907, he said, when E. H. Harriman was fighting Stuyvesant Fish for the control of the Illinois Central, Sullivan and Cromwell, Harriman's attorneys, sent Wadill Catelings to Boston to employ Fish. Dunbar and Nutter to secure proxies from Illinois Central stockholders in New England to be voted against Fish.

"Thereafter," said Fox, "Mr. Brandeis acted for Harriman and widely affects and is affected by the results of the election to obtain proxies in his behalf."

Other charges made by Mr. Fox concerned an alleged connection of Mr. Brandeis with two suits brought in 1905 against the Gillette Safety Razor company.

IMMUNITY FROM FATAL DISEASES

EUROPEAN SCIENTISTS HAVE NEW SERUM—AMERICA STUDYING VITALITAS.

Notwithstanding the stress of the world war French and German scientists are working upon a new serum discovered at the Academy of Medicine in Paris which it is believed will give immunity from many forms of contagious disease and will make more certain the prevention and cure of influenza, etc.

Dr. America's study of Vitalitas, a natural product extracted from an earth stratum, has engaged much scientific attention. In thousands of cases throughout Southern States Vitalitas has been tested in the treatment of chronic disorders with marvelous results. It is becoming recognized as the most efficient of natural remedies and one to be safely and efficiently employed in the home. There is in Vitalitas an extraordinary and natural combination of mineral ingredients and earth forces that are essential to the body and are effective in overcoming disease. Chronic disorders generally of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood are treated with wonderful success with Vitalitas. It is effective in many cases where all else has failed.

Most of these people stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They eat just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them gain any methods of eating. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay there in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare these fatty food elements so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them in the body as muscle, bone, or fat. That will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

THE WACO WELFARE LEAGUE.

Mo altruistic is the purpose and no broad the scope of the newly formed Waco Welfare League that every citizen of Waco who has the betterment of the city at heart can become affiliated with it, for it will be strictly non-political and non-sectarian, and will give itself to upbuilding the city's interests along those lines that promote personal efficiency, better health, broader culture and greater civic beauty.

The membership does of the organization have been placed at only $1 a year, which brings identification with that body within reach of practically every citizen of the city.

The Welfare League does not propose to put any existing organization out of business. It will seek to secure the co-operation of all worthy organizations operating in Waco at the present time along social service and civic lines to the end that duplication and waste can be avoided through a better division of the labor that needs to be performed, that economy in the work to be done may be effected, and in order that a necessary program of work along social and civic lines can be mapped out in unison by representatives from all worthy and co-operating bodies to the end that they can be adequately financed in one general campaign among the people of the city each year, thus eliminating the constantly recurring appeals throughout the year, as has been the case heretofore.

It is the hope of the organization by means of an employment bureau and other agencies to greatly reduce the need of furnishing relief by providing individuals and families with the means of making themselves self-supporting, to lay its great emphasis upon constructive and permanent relief rather than palliative and temporary relief. It will seek to lessen poverty by finding employment for those who are idle, through lessening sickness by inculcating the lessons of sanitation and health, from both a personal and a community standpoint, and through increasing the efficiency and earning capacity of the individual by means of free night schools, lyceums and the like.

In fact, many lines of effort looking toward making more efficient, healthy, cultured and happy citizens will be engaged in if the ideals of those who have been working on the movement for several months are realized, and while this is about the broadest undertaking that has been engaged in by any single body in this country, so far as is known, the committee on organization believes there is enough intelligence, patriotism, executive ability and spirit of co-operation among the citizens of Waco to make the accomplishment of this aim possible. It must be borne in mind, however, that those who have taken the lead in the launching of the Welfare League do not expect to carry out their whole program the first year, yet there is much that can be done immediately. A tentative program will be formulated and officers elected at a meeting of the directors in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which time a membership campaign will probably be formulated. When this is done we hope every citizen of Waco who wants to see the city's interests advanced along the various lines indicated will see to it that his name is enrolled. And the women will be as welcome as the men.

The various radio clubs and the Boy Scouts of the United States demonstrated their dependability Monday night in the accurateness and promptness with which they received and delivered the message sent out by Colonel Nicholson of the United States army as a test of the efficiency of the 25,000 licensed radio operators in this country. And the Waco boys showed as high standard as did those of any other section of the country. Curbing Trachoma.

The establishing of small trachoma hospitals in localities where this contagious disease of the eyes is prevalent presents the best solution of the trachoma problem, according to the statement contained in the annual report of the surgeon general of the United States public health service. The service now has five trachoma hospitals in the three states of Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia, and so great has been the number of applicants for treatment that a waiting list has been established. In the last fiscal year 12,969 cases of trachoma have been treated, the larger proportion of which were cured, while those in which a cure was not effected have been greatly improved and rendered harmless to their associates. The great majority of these trachoma patients were people who lived in remote sections far removed from medical assistance, and who, but for the hospital care and treatment provided, would have remained victims of the disease practically the remainder of their lives.

"When it is considered," the report of the service states, "that thousands of persons suffering with trachoma, a dangerous contagious disease, would otherwise remain untreated, it is realized how far-reaching results have been obtained through these trachoma hospitals and the other public health work done in this connection. It would be impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the number of people who have been saved from contracting this communicable disease by thus removing these thousands of foci of infection."

In addition to treating persons with the disease the hospitals have been used for educational work. Doctors and nurses have visited the homes of the patients and have explained how to prevent the development and recurrence of the disease. One thousand three hundred and eight such visits were made during the year in Kentucky alone. "It has taken some time," the report continues, "to educate the people afflicted with this disease to the importance of cleanliness and the use of simple hygienic measures in their daily life." That results have been obtained is evidenced by the noticeably better observance of hygienic precautions by those among whom the work has been done.

In addition to the hospital work, surveys were made in sixteen counties in Kentucky, especially among school children. Eighteen thousand and sixteen people were examined, 7 per cent being found to have trachoma. Similar inspections in certain localities of Arizona, Alabama and Florida resulted in finding the disease present in from three to six children out of every 100. Periodic examination of school children for the disease and the exclusion of the afflicted from the public schools, are two of the recommendations the public health service lays emphasis upon.

One of the special features of the trachoma work was the giving of lectures and clinics before medical societies in various counties where trachoma hospitals could not be established. Patients were operated upon in the presence of physicians and the most modern methods of treatment demonstrated. Throughout, the purpose has been to stimulate local interest in taking up the campaign to eradicate trachoma.

THE WACO WELFARE LEAGUE.

Mo altruistic is the purpose and no broad the scope of the newly formed Waco Welfare League that every citizen of Waco who has the betterment of the city at heart can become affiliated with it, for it will be strictly non-political and non-sectarian, and will give itself to upbuilding the city's interests along those lines that promote personal efficiency, better health, broader culture and greater civic beauty.

The membership does of the organization have been placed at only $1 a year, which brings identification with that body within reach of practically every citizen of the city.

The Welfare League does not propose to put any existing organization out of business. It will seek to secure the co-operation of all worthy organizations operating in Waco at the present time along social service and civic lines to the end that duplication and waste can be avoided through a better division of the labor that needs to be performed, that economy in the work to be done may be effected, and in order that a necessary program of work along social and civic lines can be mapped out in unison by representatives from all worthy and co-operating bodies to the end that they can be adequately financed in one general campaign among the people of the city each year, thus eliminating the constantly recurring appeals throughout the year, as has been the case heretofore.

It is the hope of the organization by means of an employment bureau and other agencies to greatly reduce the need of furnishing relief by providing individuals and families with the means of making themselves self-supporting, to lay its great emphasis upon constructive and permanent relief rather than palliative and temporary relief. It will seek to lessen poverty by finding employment for those who are idle, through lessening sickness by inculcating the lessons of sanitation and health, from both a personal and a community standpoint, and through increasing the efficiency and earning capacity of the individual by means of free night schools, lyceums and the like.

In fact, many lines of effort looking toward making more efficient, healthy, cultured and happy citizens will be engaged in if the ideals of those who have been working on the movement for several months are realized, and while this is about the broadest undertaking that has been engaged in by any single body in this country, so far as is known, the committee on organization believes there is enough intelligence, patriotism, executive ability and spirit of co-operation among the citizens of Waco to make the accomplishment of this aim possible. It must be borne in mind, however, that those who have taken the lead in the launching of the Welfare League do not expect to carry out their whole program the first year, yet there is much that can be done immediately. A tentative program will be formulated and officers elected at a meeting of the directors in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which time a membership campaign will probably be formulated. When this is done we hope every citizen of Waco who wants to see the city's interests advanced along the various lines indicated will see to it that his name is enrolled. And the women will be as welcome as the men.

San Antonio Concern Not Under State Banking Department

Special to the Morning News.

Austin, Feb. 23.—John S. Patterson, commissioner of insurance and banking, when seen concerning the reported closing of the Federal Bank and Trust company of San Antonio, said:

"I wish to have distinctly understood that this institution was not under the supervision of my department, but that it was operating under a special charter granted by the legislature in 1912 and to expire in 1916. This is the same character of charter as that granted the Union Trust company of San Antonio, Fort Worth Savings Bank and Trust company of Fort Worth, Western Bank and Trust company of Dallas, and Texas Guaranty Bank and Trust company of Waco attempted to conduct a banking business. There are about ten of these charters in existence, all of which will expire by limitation within the next seven years. Stop Treating Catarrh Symptoms!

You Must First Remove the Cause!

WHAT most people believe to be the disease Catarrh, is really only a symptom.

The most common symptom of the presence of Catarrh in the system is an inflamed and tender condition of the breathing passages and the blocking of throat and nostrils with mucous. It is a frequent mistake to treat this symptom and neglect the actual disease that causes it.

Catarrh is the result of poisons and impurities in the blood. These impurities must be removed before the disease can be cured.

The use of washes, nasal douches and soothing creams on the irritated membranes, can have but little effect—they merely ease the local irritation but do not reach the disease.

Catarrh is a disease of the blood. To cure it you must go to the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. has proved in its use in such cases for nearly half a century to be a most powerful antidote to poisons in the blood.

S. S. S. is a scientific blending of the extracts of certain native roots and herbs which act directly on the blood. Its action is to cleanse and purify and strengthen the blood corpuscles so they fight off disease.

Because of this function S. S. S. is the one remedy that goes to the source of the trouble and removes the cause of catarrh.

If you suffer from catarrh in any of its forms, don't be misled into treating the symptoms, take S. S. S. and remove the cause of the local trouble.

Druggists all over the country can supply you with S. S. S.—be sure you get the genuine; "just-as-good" substitutes are never as good.

Three Arrests in Moose Hall Safe-Blowing Case

Complaints charging robbery in connection with the blowing of the safe in the Moose hall on the morning of February 14 were filed against Charles Walter Pace, C. M. Hale and J. C. Hudson yesterday afternoon in Justice Giles P. Lester's court. All are white men.

Pace was arrested at Seventh and Jefferson streets yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Lee Jenkins. Hale and Hudson were arrested by city police, Officers Tilley and Moore making the first arrest, and Assistant Chief James. Officers Blair and Jackson the second. Hudson was arrested at the Moose hall, where the safe was blown.

Hale and Hudson were taken into custody at Eighth and Jackson streets. Hale is a plumber and gasfitter. He and Hudson spent last night in the city jail, and will be transferred to the county jail today. Date for examining trials of the three men will probably be set today by Justice Lester.

The discovery that safeblowers had visited the Moose hall during the early morning of February 14 was made by a negro porter employed at the hall when he came to his work about 8 o'clock. The safe contained about $200 in currency, which was taken by the robbers. The time of the robbery was established as about 5:45 o'clock by pedestrians who heard a muffled explosion at that time.

HE CLAIMS LIFE IS WORTH LIVING

Well Known Buffalo Lady Says Her Husband Is Now Cured by Plant Juice.

Plant Juice, the new herbal system tonic, really puts had stomachs in order, overcomes indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn and fermentation of the food. It not only acts on the stomach but the liver and kidneys and eliminates rheumatism from the blood. Actual statements from people who have used this great remedy with success are more conclusive than all the scientific data in the world.

Take, for instance, the statement of Mrs. Edward Currie, who lives at No. 73 Kentucky street, Buffalo, N. Y., who stated:

"My husband had stomach trouble, causing gas which pressed upon his heart, making him very short of breath. He could not eat anything and was unable to sleep at night. I obtained a sample bottle of Plant Juice for him and after taking this he felt so much better that I got another bottle for him. The second bottle, he says, made him feel like a new man, in fact—entirely cured him—and he is recommending it to all his friends."

There are numerous symptoms of this trouble that Plant Juice can relieve. In fact, any of the following may denote affections of the stomach: indigestion, dyspepsia, belching, of wind, sick, throbbing headache, poor circulation, night sweats, that tired feeling, costiveness, coated tongue or a poor complexion.

Plant Juice is sold in Waco at W. B. Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving their children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or bilious is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Texas Bull Meese Can Come Into Fold in Back Seats Only

By the Associated Press.

Fort Worth, Feb. 23.—If the Texas republicans will place Cecil Lyon, head of the Bull Moosers in this state, and two or three of his followers on the delegation to the national republican convention in Chicago, the Roosevelt partisans will fuse with their late enemies. It is said here today. The condition is said to have been made secretly to the republican executive committee at its meeting in Fort Worth yesterday and is now waiting the sanction of H. F. MacGregor of Houston, national committeeman for the republicans. Some of the old guard fear to allow Lyon back in the ranks because the party it will have to support in the Chicago convention.

Only Back Seats Left.

Houston, Feb. 23.—"I have no such proposition before me," was H. F. MacGregor's comment on a Fort Worth dispatch suggesting a union of republicans and progressives. Mr. MacGregor added: "One man at the Fort Worth meeting suggested something like that, but I paid little attention to it. We might as well talk of putting a democrat on the delegation as a progressive. If Mr. Lyon and other hyphenated republicans come back into the republican party it will be a disgrace in good faith, with no expectation of undoing the disaster was traced to the corruption. Otherwise we will expect them to take a back seat."

Mexia Disaster Due to Faulty Plumbing

The report is an exhaustive one and shows that Mr. Wilson went thoroughly into every feature of the cause leading up to the explosion, with the result that the responsibility for the disaster was traced to faulty plumbing in the plumbing for gas supply in the building.

FIGHTING BLOOD
WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION

At the Hippodrome Friday and Saturday.

HIPPODROME.

"Honor's Altar."

That power and luxury do not always spell satisfaction and pleasure is shown by the Ince-Triangle drama, "Honor's Altar," showing at the Hippodrome today, and starring Bessie Barriscale, Walter Edwards and Lewis Stone. The lights and shades of society life are artistically portrayed in this production, but its chief charm is in showing up the mean, weak heart of a man and the noble, pure heart of a true woman. There is nothing thrillingly dramatic about the play, but the interest is held tense and in breathless suspense until the sudden climax leaves the heart glad.

Mallery is a man of wealth who has risen by his own efforts from poverty. His wife struggled with him in all these trying times, aiding his hand and his heart even when her own heart was heavy. But when he became a captain of industry and their social position was secured because of his wealth, Mallery decided that his wife was not polished enough for society life and was not worthy of his name.

Another woman, beautiful Dolly, seemed to him much more desirable. But the moral courage that it took to tell his wife, Winnie, these things, Mallery did not have. At his club, however, he heard a man, Warren Woods, boast that he was entirely without honor, and to the mind of Mallery came a scheme to attain his wishes. He offers Woods a check for $50,000 if he would make Winnie love him or compromise her so that he could be free. Woods agrees, and going with Mallery to this home, is introduced to Winnie as her husband's friend, and as such is unquestionably received by her.

Some time later Woods succeeds in taking Winnie for an automobile ride, and in front of a notorious road house he has a break-down. Not knowing the nature of the place, Winnie hesitatingly enters with the man she regards only as her husband's friend. At this point the action and acting is remarkable and the suspense indescribable. And the climax that comes without warning is strong and powerful. "Honor's Altar" will show at the Hippodrome today only.

AUDITORIUM.

"Everywoman."

To five men is the amusement world indebted for the production of "Everywoman," the peculiar dramatic spectacle, which Henry W. Savage will produce at the Auditorium Thursday and Friday, matinee and night, though several hundred others labored long and earnestly in its behalf, each one contributing his several portions. First of all, of course, the author, Walter Burridge. He was a New York newspaper man, a soldier of fortune who had looked upon the seamy side of life in many lands and under diverse circumstances. "Everywoman" was his life's work. Upon it he expended the full fruit of his wide experience as an actor, a singer, a sailor, an editor, a lecturer, a traveler and an educator. He died in dire poverty on the morning of the day of the first performance of his play. Henry W. Savage was the producer. But for Mr. Savage's keen dramatic instinct it is doubtful whether poor Burridge would ever have found a manager brave enough to invest sixty thousand dollars, which was required to mount the play. Other managers had read the manuscript and had handed it back, but Mr. Savage scented its value and spared no money to make the production lavish. George Marion was the stage director. Those who witness the fourth act scene with the roistering crowds on Broadway, New York, at midnight on New Year's eve, will marvel at the accomplishment. It is a triumph of stagecraft. Walter Burridge painted the scenery. Audiences are amazed at the fidelity with which Mr. Burridge has transformed to the stage the familiar things of life. Whether the stage of a theatre at rehearsal, the apartment of "Everywoman" in Belgravia, or Broadway, New York, with its mellow lights, his brush has wrought a wizardry not easily forgotten. Last of the quintette responsible for "Everywoman" is Hy Mayer, the famous cartoonist and magazine illustrator, who designed the striking costumes worn by the thirty-seven speaking and singing characters of the play. His was a difficult task, as the period of the action and the whimsicality of the idea required absolute originality.

"On Trial."

It is not difficult to understand the success of "On Trial," which is presented here under the direction of Cohen & Harris at the Auditorium Monday, February 28. Its mechanical cleverness and structural unusualness rivet the attention from the first to the last scene in what is beyond question the most original play the American stage has fostered in a quarter of a century.

The main story of the melodrama deals with a murder trial wherein the jury is put in possession of all the facts leading to the crime. The circumstantial evidence is marshalled before the jury and at the same time before the audience. The witnesses are called one after another, and in the midst of evidence one by one the scenes change from court room to the enactment of those crucial moments that lead to the actual crime.

The appeal of "On Trial" is found in its realistic visualization of a story from real life that combines the tense interest that attaches to the fight for acquittal by an accused murderer and the battle of wits by the district attorney and the lawyers for the defense, the whole forming an altogether powerful and intensely dramatic exposition.

The court room is the one stage setting that dominates the three acts and ten scenes of this unusual play. The gentlemen of the jury, the learned judge are continually in evidence, and yet this scene fades away continually and gives place to scenes elsewhere in the unfolding of the plot and illustrating the unfolding of the witnesses. It is uncanny at times by the weird lightening changes of persons and places.

"On Trial" is tremendously emotional and calls for the most artistic treatment. No ordinary actors could interpret the parts. To see the wife of the defendant sitting in the witness chair, broken in spirit and ached by suffering, and then in the twinkling of an eye to have the scene change to the library of her husband's home, where she erects him, youthful, beautiful, animated and joyous, is thrilling indeed.

Limited space will not admit of a detailed description of the remarkable drama. It is sufficient to say that it is the most distinctly human document ever projected across the footlights and as a skilled piece of dramatic construction is certain to stand as an example for many years to come.

"The Birth of a Nation."

A distinguished dramatic critic, who has written many authoritative books and whose word is as weighty as gold in any discussion relating to the stage, has taken a steady stand against the art of the motion picture, declaring it is no art at all and never will be.

In a recent discussion of a popular actress he had just seen on the screen, he declared that "in the movies she is a dancing nightmare of her charming self and with the horrible suggestion of an animated dead person that is characteristic of all film pictures."

It is identically this "suggestion of an animated dead person" that D. W. Griffith has succeeded in removing in his impressive spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," which returns to the Auditorium for three performances next week. And it is due to the removal of this suggestion that his film actors excite the audiences to such frenzied outbursts of shouting and applause, seldom heard in the theatre of flesh and blood actors, and never in the picture houses.

The only reason the phantoms of the screen appear phantasmal is because speech is lacking. Griffith has substituted for speech a musical score as truly interpretative as speech could possibly be, and presto! the ghosts, have vanished. It is only the Wagnerian idea of opera applied to the screen. Wagner believed musical sounds could be made as eloquent and intelligible as words. He demonstrated his belief. Griffith believed that music could be made to overcome the one vital objection to the motion picture, and he, too, has demonstrated his belief just as surely as did Wagner.

"I've got a little story about Henry Walthall, the famous—"

It was the press agent of the Nickel theatre speaking.

"Nothing doing," said the editor firmly.

"About Henry Walthall, the famous hero of 'The Birth of a Nation,' who is playing in Ekanan's great—"

"No room today for your stuff," the editor insisted.

"Essanay's great series, 'The Strange Case of Mary Page,' that's to be shown at the Nickel theatre on Fridays. He caught cold and couldn't talk, so they had to hold up the making of the picture until he got well."

"Couldn't talk!" the editor scoffed.

"So they couldn't take a moving picture! Get out of here, I'm busy."

"You see, Mr. Walthall, the famous—"

"Yes. You said that once."

"Mr. Walthall caught cold and in one of the scenes it was supposed to be in the summertime and an electric fan was supposed to blow away an important paper off his desk. Well, they started taking the picture and he had a cold and the fan blew on his back and made him sneeze right in an important part of the picture. So they took it over and he sneezed again. They—"

"That's enough. You've used up plenty of space," yelled the editor, "with those sneezes."

"Well, then they quit for the day. That's all."

"What about his losing his voice?" the editor demanded.

"That," said the press agent, edging toward the door, "was just to arouse your curiosity."

He paused, his hand on the knob.

"Say," he suggested, "you might head that story, 'This Mary Page Picture Is Not to Be Sneezed At.'"

The door slammed and he was gone.

"THE HUMAN SLAVE" NEW BILL AT THE ORPHEUM

Murphy's Comedians Present Bill of Exceptional Merit Last Half of Week.

For the last half of the week, beginning tonight, Murphy's Comedians will present "The Human Slave," a four-act melodrama of gripping interest, and will be interspersed with the usual three vaudeville numbers, to make practically a continuous performance, instead of having long, tiresome waits between acts.

The plot of "The Human Slave" is woven about the efforts of a daughter to find the murderer of her father, the only clue being a handkerchief found in his hand and containing initials of the murderer. The girl, a backwoodsman's daughter, is uneducated and cannot read, but is determined and at the first opportunity begins to learn to read and finally succeeds in running to earth the guilty man. There is this usual love affair running through the story and one of the strong scenes in the third act when the sister of the accused man starts to prevent his being lynched by friends of the murdered man. It was necessary to cross from the plantation to the prison on an island in the lake during a severe storm, the trip being made by the Human Slave, a man who was under control of an enemy on account of a crime of which he was innocent.

The setting of the third act shows the lakeside in almost total darkness at the rise of the curtain, the rising of the sun gradually giving illumination to the scene. Here is to be seen some of the best efforts of stagecraft, which combined with the known dramatic ability of Mr. Bronson and his co-workers, will give an evening of more than ordinary enjoyment.

Special children's matinee Saturday at 3 o'clock.

Quick Work in Stopping Runaway Rescues Three

Stopping a frightened horse which was tearing down South Eleventh toward the railroad tracks, W. I. Smith, lineman for the Texas Power and Light company, probably saved the lives of a woman and two small children who were in the vehicle. The runaway occurred about 3:40 yesterday afternoon.

A gang of linemen were working close to the Cotton Belt tracks when the horse came running around the corner of Washington and South Eleventh and turned toward the tracks. Smith rushed into the street, grasped the bridle, and as a broken shaft played a tattoo on his ribs, stopped the animal about twenty yards after he had secured his hold. The trucks were only a few feet away and a long freight train was passing by at the time. None of the occupants of the rig were injured.

The rig was fixed up and the woman

Special to the Morning News.

Austin, Feb. 23.—In a game replete with thrills, the crack Baylor soccer team defeated the University of Texas team by the score of 2 to 0. Chicago Fans Will Give Rice Banquet to C. H. Weegman

Special to the Morning News.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Leading citizens of Chicago, friends of Charles H. Weegman, new president of the Cubs in the National league, plan to do him honor with a novel "rice banquet" before he departs for the south on the team's training trip. The unique affair, which will be attended by judges, bank presidents and millionaires, as well as baseball stars and newspaper editors, will take place at the Hotel Morrison at Chicago.

The atmosphere of the south, as nearly as possible, will be created at the rice-laden feast. Among the orators will be members of the Southern club of Chicago and those who will speak from the land of cotton as well as cookery from the section which is equally world famous as the land of rice.

Every item on the menu will have rice for a component, or at least as a flavoring. In this way Chicago's wealthiest baseball fans will recognize the growing popularity of rice as a food staple in their city. Its superior food values are better understood after a year or two of being under the influence of education by Chicagoans as a result of educational work by physicians and scientists.

Judge Adair J. Pettit, one of the best known jurists in the city, will toastmaster at the rice banquet. Charles A. Comiskey, president of the White Sox, and Joe Judge, president of the speakers' bureau, will also respond to toasts.

Giants Must Leave Wives at Home During Training Season

Special to the Morning News.

Marlin, Feb. 23.—Manager McGraw of the New York Giants has put the ban on players having their wives with them at Marlin this season, according to a letter received from him today by Manager Anders of the Arlington hotel, and is setting his example by cancelling reservations for his wife at the hotel.

No reason was assigned to this action by the "Little Napoleon," but the inference drawn by those hearing of the move is that the Giants are coming here strictly for training for the season, and that the players, with the intention of getting such good condition that the pennant will come back to them this year.

U. S. WAR DEPARTMENT TRAINING BOYS FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Washington boys learning the art of war.

The school boys of Washington have taken up the study of national defense and keen "war games" are being waged weekly between opposing teams of the high schools. This is a picture of one of these "war games" being fought under the observation of Lieut. E. Z. Steever, U. S. A., attached to the general staff, who has been detailed to this work by the war department. Lieut. Steever has four classes a week in military maneuvers with the boys and they march, countermarch and hurl their armies at each other just as the veterans do in the war councils. The boys are from fourteen to eighteen years of age.

MARKET REPORT

COTTON

New York, Feb. 23.—There was quite a sharp rally in the cotton market here today, with May contracts selling up from 11.46 to 11.68 on covering of shorts and buying for a reaction. The advance met considerable realizing on renewed liquidation, however, and there were reactions in the late trading, with May closing at 11.61. The general list closed steady at a net advance of from 10 to 13 points for the day.

Liverpool made a fairly steady showing over the American holiday, but the opening here showed renewed nervousness with first prices 1 point higher on September but generally to 7 points lower on the move active positions. Several months made new low records for the lowest and 12th market reached the low with March selling at 11.18, July at 11.46 and October at 11.87. There was considerable realizing and some local selling on advance. The market closed at 11.18 and 12th market at 12.07, or about 16 to 18 points net higher on the general list.

New Orleans, Feb. 23.—Moderately wide movement during the day in the local cotton market today in spite of the recent advance. The market reached the near best point of the day during the afternoon, when March sold at 11.43, July at 11.88 and December at 12.07, or about 16 to 18 points net higher on the general list.

Support given the market by leading spot interests caused the bull element to become more confident and buying was soon less liquidation of the most months, which has been one of the more active features against values for some time.

In the early trading prices lost 7 to 8 points. On this decline, which was induced by poor cable buying, developed and the market gradually rose until it was 21 to 26 points up from day's last quotations. The close was at a net gain of 10 to 12 points.

The ring was active throughout the session.

WHEAT

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Wheat suffered a break today that in some cases amounted to as much as 1/4¢, the result chiefly of weakness at Winnipeg and Liverpool. Closing quotations were unsettled, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ net lower, with May at $1.23 1/2 and July at $1.19 1/2. Corn gained 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, oats finished 1/4 to 1/2¢ off and provisions 10¢ to 17 1/2¢ up.

Depression in wheat proved most acute right at the outset, when the trade was dominated by bearish announcements regarding big receipts and liberal reserves in Winnipeg and by word from Liverpool that the European visible had notably increased and that the Australian surplus was more than double any ever before obtained.

Corn developed remarkable strength in the face of the break in wheat. Oats sympathized with wheat instead of corn.

Provisions responded to higher quotations on corn and hogs.

Waco's Part in Red Cross Preparedness Subjects for Tonight

What the local chapter of the American Red Cross will do to start their part of the plan for national medical and surgical preparedness will probably be decided at the first meeting of the chapter since it was organized recently by E. P. Porter, Morris of Washington D. C., who was on a tour of the states organizing branches of the Red Cross. Until Mr. Porter's visit to Texas, this state had only two chapters, one at Dallas and the other at El Paso. Now all the larger cities of the state and a number of the smaller ones have organized chapters.

National Weathered of the Texas National Guard, secretary of the Waco chapter, is in receipt of the plans of preparedness and will present them before the local chapter tonight. Last December the American Red Cross secretly began plans to put the United States in a state of preparedness from a surgical and medical standpoint in case of war, fires, wrecks, earthquakes or other catastrophes. It is also in line with President Wilson's national military preparedness plan as it is believed at the present time could not properly be cared for in case this nation was at war. With that time being discussed for the Red Cross heads to be increased, the Red Cross heads deemed it advisable to promote a surgical state of preparedness. Since that time chapters have been organized over the United States and the plan is well under

CHAIRMAN CARLIN OF STYLE SHOW COMMITTEE ASKS BUSINESS MEN TO CO-OPERATE.

PROF. CALLOWAY PRESENTS A PLAN TO RELIEVE CROWDED CONDITION OF HIGH SCHOOL.

GRAND BALL FRIDAY NIGHT EIGHTH GRADE QUESTION UP

Cotton Palace Coliseum to Be Scene of Brilliant Event Closing Festivities. Sub-committees Appointed.

Placing Back in Grammar Schools Favored by Teacher and Physician. Trustees on the Fence.

Announcement has been made by J. W. Carlin, chairman of the committee in charge of the Spring Style Show which will start here next Tuesday night, that boxes would be reserved at the ball which will be given March 3, the closing night of the show, for the patronesses and others who will take a prominent part in the features of the show and will be held in the Cotton Palace coliseum.

The following have been appointed as a floor committee to arrange for the ball: Langdon E. Luedde, T. F. Bush, C. B. McCollum, Joe Haber, L. C. Alexander and Davis Stripling.

Letters have been sent out to the Waco merchants urging them to prepare for the style show and to co-operate in making it a success. A copy of this letter follows:

"Waco, Texas, Feb. 23, 1916.
"Gentlemen: Next Tuesday night the style show opens. We trust that you are making preparations accordingly, as it is the hope of the style show committee that every business house in Waco will 'dress up' in keeping with the occasion. May we suggest—

"1. That you clean and polish your show windows, and make special window displays for the style show.

"2. That you decorate the interior of your store, so that the visitor who enters your doors will not say, 'Why it's just the same old store we see every day.'

"3. That in any decorations you use, it will be well to remember that Thursday, March 2, is Texas Independence Day, and may be very appropriately recognized by use of Texas flags.

"4. That you curtain your show windows not later than 2 o'clock on Tuesday, February 23, and reopen them promptly at 8 p. m. when you hear the cannon fired at Eighth and Austin.

Also let us urge you to make liberal use of the newspapers for advertising in connection with the style show. Most of the money that is being spent by the committee for advertising is being used in out-of-town mediums; and for our local advertising we are depending principally on the free space the papers give us, and upon the advertising that each merchant—including you—will do. The Tribune will have a special style show edition on Saturday, and the Times Herald and News will have special style show features on Sunday. Any advertising you do in these issues will benefit not only our own business, but will be a direct advertisement to help the style show.

Yours very truly,
J. W. CARLIN,
"General Chairman."

China Springs Woodmen Prepare for Campaign

There will be a big Woodman speaking at China Springs on the night of March 3, according to J. F. Giddings of China Springs, who was in Waco yesterday. State Deputy Wolfe and District Deputy R. M. Hayes of Waco will be among the speakers and an interesting program is being arranged. The public is cordially invited to attend.

When Waco was given the next head camp meeting it was with the proviso that the entire county take in 1,000 new members by the time it convened. The China Springs Woodmen are anxious to do their part and are trying to arouse interest in their community by the speaking a week from next Friday night. It is expected that there will be a large attendance from Waco.

The advisability of removing the eighth grade of the high school and placing it in the grammar schools was discussed yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association which was held in the high school study hall. Dr. S. C. Gage and C. O. Calloway, teacher of mathematics at the high school, both gave short addresses before the association in which they heartily approved of placing the eighth grade in the grammar schools.

In a discussion which followed in which several of the high school teachers took part it was evident that they were not in favor of the division. Mr. Calloway stated that he believed that it would be better for the pupils if they were all of near the same age and that this would be aided some by putting the eighth grade in the grammar schools. He stated that while some of the pupils made good by their transfer to the high school at the eighth grade that the majority of the number would be greatly increased if they were transferred one year later, which would put a set of pupils in the high school nearer the same age and that better results would be derived.

Longer School Day Proposed

Another feature of Mr. Calloway's address was the proposition of caring for the increasing attendance at the high school. While the high school will soon be taxed to its capacity, Mr. Calloway stated that he believed a system could be adopted whereby Waco could care for the high school students with the present building for at least five years longer. He recalled the system now in effect at Denver, Colo., and Rochester, N. Y., where the daily school program lasted from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. Pupils under this system are kept in school no longer than the system now in effect here, as the pupils were dismissed earlier in the afternoon, while the pupils whose classes start at a later hour are kept until later in the afternoon. He said that this would not mean more work for the teachers, as the teachers could teach the same number of hours they do now and more that he thought it would be a wiser investment to employ more teachers than to spend several thousand dollars for a new high school building which would also require more teachers.

Dr. Gage gave several reasons why he thought the eighth grade belonged in the grammar schools rather than in the high school. He said that in a better physical condition if they entered the high school one year later than they do now. He did not advocate making the transfer of pupils from the grammar schools to the high school until they were older. That the child's mind would be better developed and more eager to begin his high school career and be more studious and get better results out of his high school course was declared by Dr. Gage if the transfer was made one year later.

W. E. Darden, president of the school board, discussed the subject and stated that the school board had not taken any side in regard to the proposition should be carefully studied and worked out before a definite action is made. He said that if the eighth grade was placed in the grammar school the eighth grade might be advisable for the high school, but that the proposition on this account, but that the congestion would be relieved some when the building is built at Nineteenth and Bosque streets.

of study for the entire eleven grades, regardless of where the eighth grade is, is necessary for the best results of a school course, was declared by Mr. Darden. He said that co-operation between the parents and teachers is also helpful in the success of the schools, and that if the parents would give a closer co-operation with the schools, would be revolutionized and now face the average school room would be eliminated. That segregation of the boys and girls of the high school might prove to advantage was stated by Mr. Darden, but he said that this, too, is a subject which should be thoroughly threshed out before action is taken.

The date of the meeting for yesterday afternoon was rescheduled by Mrs. Nannie V. Boynton, teacher of the West Avenue Grammar school. The next meeting of the Parent-Teacher association will be held the last Wednesday in March.

LIVING MODELS TO ATTEMPT REPEAL OF APPEAR AT SANGER'S CITY ORDINANCE FOR DURING STYLE SHOW SEMI-MONTHLY PAY

According to announcement made at the Sanger store yesterday it has been definitely decided that the expert living model presentations in the firm's great promenade room will take place beginning in the morning on Thursday, March 2nd, Thursday afternoon and Thursday night. Also Friday morning, March 3rd and Friday afternoon and Friday night. The Thursday night performance will be the only night performance this year of the expert living models at the Sanger store. The Style Show under the auspices of the Young Men's Business League is to take place on Friday night instead of Thursday night, as stated in this paper yesterday.

Special electrical features have been planned for the night as well as the day promenades at the Sanger store and these electrical features are of such a nature as to correctly portray the new evening shades in reception and ball dresses and costumes when in use. Daylight will be used to present the street costumes, dresses, suits and skirts, millinery, etc.

Sanger Brothers are sending thousands of notices out over central Texas containing the information that the Sanger Fashion Show will take place on Thursday and Friday, March 2nd and 3rd, and especially featuring the night performance of the expert living models for next Thursday night. The firm schedules make it possible for people from practically all points to arrive in Waco in time for the morning performance of the living models on Thursday and Friday and the evening performance on Thursday night will be over in time to catch the trains and interurbans for all points; thus the plan makes it possible for out of town people as well as Waco people to enjoy the benefits of the Sanger opening styles for spring and summer at morning, afternoon and night performances and still arrive and leave at a convenient hour.

Commissioner Dunken's ordinance providing for semi-monthly payment of salaries to city employees passed last week will probably be repealed at the commission meeting this morning, when a repeal ordinance will be introduced by Commissioners Dollins and Richards, both of whom voted for the ordinance last week. Commissioner Cockcroft will also support the repeal. It is understood, giving sufficient authority to make its passage certain. The action of Commissioners Dollins and Richards in introducing the repeal ordinance, according to a statement by them yesterday, is based upon the circumstance that the city does not receive interest on public funds which would deprive the city of interest on the full amount of the monthly payroll.

Mayor Higgins, who was absent when the semi-monthly pay-day ordinance was passed last week, has declared his intention of vetoing the ordinance. Repeal of the ordinance today would obviate the mayor's veto.
